Professor Quinlan Sutter (Helmsman)

Morning Review

Good morning, my friends!

I'm Quinlan Sutter, your old friend. Yesterday, we discussed how to carefully plan our wealth journey and set the safety boundaries for our VIP partners. This was not just a sharing of investment strategies, but a profound reflection and inspiration on growth and goals. We've found the art of balancing risk and reward, and that is the essential wisdom on the path of investing.

Understanding the power of compound interest is the cornerstone of our success, and a solid strategy is the guardian of our wealth accumulation. On this foundation, bold ambition and decisive action are the keys to realizing our dreams. This journey is not just about chasing wealth, but also about pursuing dreams and realizing self-worth. As we mentioned yesterday, compound interest is like a sapling we plant, growing steadily and ultimately bearing abundant fruit.

Friends, let's continue to move forward together, following the guidance of the "Battle of King" profit plan, and steadfastly pursue our goals. This is not just a numbers game; it's the journey we take toward the future. Every step is crucial, and every strategy is our safeguard. We must learn to find opportunities in market fluctuations and strike a balance in risk. As it is said in the Bible: "Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might." This is our mission and a commitment to ourselves.

No matter where you are in your journey, no matter how big the challenges ahead, don't give up easily. Believe in yourself, believe in our team, and believe in the plan we've created together. This is not just about personal success, but about the growth and brilliance of our entire team.

The future belongs to those who dare to chase their dreams, and success belongs to those who persevere. Let's prove our abilities through action and reward our efforts with results. Every moment of perseverance brings us one step closer to our goal; every effort becomes the foundation of our success.

This week, we are approaching a series of significant events that will profoundly impact our journey to wealth. So, in the volatile crypto market, what key factors should we focus on as guiding beacons? Next, I will reveal these crucial insights and information. Are you ready, dear investment elites of the QTM community?

First, we need to closely monitor the upcoming Federal Reserve interest rate decision. The market currently expects the rate to remain at 4.50%. This decision is undoubtedly the key focus of the market this week. If the decision aligns with expectations, the market may continue its current sideways movement. However, if it deviates from expectations, we could see greater volatility. In the current environment of a high-level, fluctuating stock market, any unexpected negative news will likely be amplified, triggering a surge in bearish sentiment. Therefore, staying alert and being flexible in our responses is crucial.

Another key focus this week is the release of the December Core PCE Price Index on Friday. This data is not only a critical gauge of inflation but also an important reference for the Fed's future policy direction. If the data shows inflation continuing to slow, it will strengthen the Fed's dovish stance and inject more liquidity into the market. However, if the data comes in higher than expected, the market may reassess the Fed's future policy path.

At the same time, the expectations for interest rate cuts signaled by the European Central Bank indicate the early stages of policy adjustments by non-U.S. central banks. This suggests that the global economic environment is undergoing significant changes, with central banks around the world responding to inflation pressures and the challenges of slowing economic growth through various strategies. The strengthening of rate cut expectations could further ease global liquidity, creating more investment opportunities in the market while also introducing new challenges.

It is worth noting that the Federal Reserve has expressed a more optimistic outlook for U.S. economic growth and the Core PCE Price Index. This is a positive signal, indicating that inflation is gradually retreating. However, despite this, the Fed still plans to implement two rate cuts this year. The market generally interprets this plan as a dovish signal, suggesting that the Fed remains inclined to maintain an accommodative monetary policy to support economic recovery.

Although there has been some adjustment in the Fed's expectations for future interest rates, their overall view on the rate path has not changed. This reflects that the current policy tweaks are more about caution rather than a complete shift in direction. Therefore, we must continue to closely monitor market dynamics and be ready to adjust investment strategies to respond to any potential policy changes.

In the personal finance realm, Robert Kiyosaki, the bestselling author of Rich Dad Poor Dad and a globally renowned financial educator, continues to inspire countless investors with his deep insights and candid views. His criticism of fiat currencies has never ceased, and his admiration for assets like gold, silver, and crypto, including Bitcoin, remains unwavering. For Kiyosaki, these assets are not just investment tools, but "safe havens" to navigate uncertain economic environments.

In 2024, Kiyosaki's portfolio once again demonstrated his strategic foresight with an astonishing return of 76.03%, with Bitcoin, Ethereum, and Solana being the primary contributors to this performance. Although he missed out on the explosive rally of major AI tech stocks like Nvidia in the first half of the year, his long-held investment philosophy proves particularly profound amidst the current global economic uncertainty. On January 27th, Kiyosaki once again issued a strong market warning via the social media platform X.

Kiyosaki bluntly stated that a historic market crash will occur in February 2025. This is precisely what he referred to as the "biggest stock market crash in history" in his 2013 book Rich Dad's Prophecy. However, contrary to the warning, he did not exhibit much pessimism. Kiyosaki pointed out, "This is good news because when a crash happens, everything is on sale. Cars, houses, and even the entire market will become a hunting ground for investors."

More importantly, he added, "Billions of dollars will flow out of the stock and bond markets and into Bitcoin." He believes that Bitcoin will experience unprecedented prosperity during this economic turmoil, passionately writing, "Bitcoin will thrive, thrive, and thrive! Seize the opportunity, don't wait until it's too late." This aligns perfectly with our community's long-standing assessment of a historic opportunity in the crypto market in 2025.

We have long recognized the sideways movement in the stock market and the potential risks, and we decisively implemented a strategy to adjust our capital by reallocating 90% into the crypto market while keeping only 10% in the stock market. This strategy not only avoided the risks of a stock market pullback but also allowed us to fully capitalize on the immense profit potential of the crypto market. Just last week, we witnessed the miraculous 450x return within two days of TRUMP Coin's launch, a performance beyond imagination, making the crypto market the focal point for investors worldwide.

Kiyosaki's viewpoint is not only based on historical market patterns but also serves as a clear declaration of future possibilities. Every market crash means a reallocation of assets, and Bitcoin and crypto assets are quickly becoming the new favorites of global investors. This is not just an investment choice but a way to take control of one's destiny. The 2008 financial crisis taught us many lessons. At that time, the Federal Reserve's leadership prioritized saving the banks, while millions of families lost their homes, savings, and future hopes in the crisis. This further solidified his mistrust of the traditional financial system and strengthened his unwavering confidence in crypto assets.

Friends, history always reminds us: every crisis brings with it immeasurable opportunities. This time, the crypto market has become the core stage for the future reconstruction of wealth. Opportunities are reserved for those who are prepared and willing to take action. Kiyosaki's prophecy clearly tells us that now is the best time to position ourselves for the future. The market turmoil in 2025 may be a critical turning point for wealth redistribution, and the question is, are you ready? Are you willing to seize this unprecedented opportunity to create a new future for yourself and your family?

As Kiyosaki says, "Seize the opportunity, take bold action." This is not just a word of encouragement, but a sincere call to every investor. Choose to enter the crypto market, choose to take action and reshape the future. Let us seize this historic wave of wealth together and write our own legend!

QTM COMMUNITY

Recently, the crypto market has been performing in sync with the stock market, experiencing sideways movement at elevated levels. As the MACD indicator on the daily candlestick chart is about to form a "death cross" at high levels, the pace of technical adjustment is expected to take about two more weeks to complete.

Yesterday, Bitcoin briefly dropped below $101,000, drawing significant market attention. From a technical perspective, the strong support level lies around $90,000, and this round of market adjustment could encounter its first key level at $97,000 in the short term. In other words, the current sideways adjustment seems more like a buildup of momentum for a future surge.

To witness a real upward trend, we need to wait for Bitcoin to stabilize after its adjustment, with the MACD indicator on the daily candlestick chart forming a bullish "golden cross." This signal will be a clear indication of the next major rally. Until then, we must remain patient and use this adjustment period to reassess our investment strategies.

The recent market volatility has undoubtedly made many investors uneasy, but in my view, this is precisely an opportunity worth seizing.

The significant decline in tech stocks is largely driven by market concerns over the rise of China's AI startup, DeepSeek. DeepSeek's strong performance has prompted Western investors to reconsider the dominance of AI in the market. Some analysts have even referred to this as AI's "Sputnik moment," drawing a parallel to the space race sparked by the Soviet Union's satellite launch in the late 1950s. This shift in sentiment has undoubtedly intensified the market's risk-averse mood.

However, for the long-term development of the crypto market, this adjustment is both healthy and necessary. Bitcoin's failure to continue its previous upward momentum last week, after briefly surpassing $100,000, was largely due to profit-taking on the technical side, coupled with a temporary dip in market sentiment. While the Trump administration's policy statements did not mention cryptocurrency, leading to short-term disappointment for bulls, it has not altered the long-term positive outlook for the crypto market.

In fact, after taking office, Trump issued an executive order to establish a working group tasked with drafting new cryptocurrency regulations and exploring the creation of a national cryptocurrency reserve. This indicates that the U.S. government is gradually laying a more solid foundation for the future of cryptocurrencies. Additionally, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) rescinded an accounting guidance that had imposed significant restrictions on the crypto industry, clearing some obstacles for the entire sector.

For long-term investors, Bitcoin's recent pullback feels more like a "breather." From the impact of the halving cycle to the expectations that sovereign nations may incorporate cryptocurrencies into their strategic reserves, these factors all suggest that Bitcoin's long-term growth potential remains vast. Many institutions in the market unanimously predict that by the second half of 2025, it is highly probable that Bitcoin will solidify its position at $150,000.

In investing, I have always adhered to one core principle: don't just listen to what institutions say, but focus on what they are actually doing. Actions are the truest reflection, and data is the strongest evidence. When major institutional players start positioning their capital, and Bitcoin undergoes a round of adjustment, these signals are telling us that new opportunities are quietly emerging.

Looking back at last year, Bitcoin surged past $100,000, driven by the dual catalysts of the halving cycle and the presidential election. Now, in 2025, the historic investment opportunity known as the "Crypto Year One" has begun. We are standing at a brand new starting point, a moment filled with both hope and challenges. Such an opportunity is destined to belong only to those who are prepared and willing to take action.

Dear friends, this is not just a pursuit of wealth, but a call from within. It is our exploration of the unknown, our conquest of limits. Under the banner of the "Battle of King Profit Plan," let us march forward side by side, turning dreams into reality. Let the profit targets of +300%, +600%, +900% no longer be mere visions, but tangible results in our hands.

This is the moment when the fire in our hearts burns brightly! This is our journey of giving our all for our dreams! Every effort, every choice, will become a chapter in the legend we write. Let us create history with fearless courage and unwavering belief. Because our story will not just be a glorious memory, but a legendary tale that astonishes the world.

Now is the time to act. Let us unite, seize the opportunities this era has gifted us, and fight for our future with no regrets, only glory!

The 450x return of TRUMP Coin within two days has undoubtedly shocked investors worldwide. Recently, many friends in the community have asked me if I can guide them to seize high-quality ICO projects like TRUMP Coin. This made me think of a recently discussed project, the IEO newcomer launched by the COINIXIAI Exchange: GEBT. This is not just another cryptocurrency, but a whole new journey where technological innovation and dreams come together.

IEO (Initial Exchange Offering) is similar to an IPO in traditional finance, where companies raise funds by issuing tokens through blockchain technology. For us investors, participating in an IEO is not only a potential opportunity for value appreciation, but also a trust and investment in the future of technological innovation.

The birth of GEBT has undoubtedly injected new vitality into the market. It not only represents the cutting edge of blockchain technology, but also combines it with the revolutionary biotechnology of gene editing. The core concept of this project is to address several long-standing key issues in the field of biotechnology:

- Data security and privacy protection: Using the decentralized nature of blockchain to achieve secure storage and privacy protection of biological data.
- Enhancing research collaboration and data sharing efficiency: Building an efficient collaboration bridge for global research institutions and enterprises to accelerate scientific research.

- Ensuring the authenticity and credibility of clinical trial data: Using blockchain technology to guarantee the immutability of clinical data, enhancing the reliability of research outcomes.

Imagine that, through blockchain technology, research data will be shared and applied in a safer, more transparent, and efficient manner. This technology is not only advancing DNA research but will also lead to groundbreaking progress in tackling difficult diseases, brain-computer interface research, and personalized medicine. GEBT is not just a technological platform; it represents a complete revolution in biotechnology.

The GenBook ecosystem is at the heart of it all. It is dedicated to building a globally leading platform for the sharing and collaboration of biotechnology data. From DNA research to the exploration of neuroscience, GenBook will provide life sciences with entirely new possibilities. More importantly, this is not just a technological innovation, but also humanity's hope for solving complex diseases and improving health.

For investors, the opportunity presented by GEBT is not just about potential high returns; it also represents a highly significant investment theme in the crypto market. The success of TRUMP Coin has already shown us that every bull market hides an opportunity to change one's destiny, and GEBT is undoubtedly a presence that cannot be ignored in this wave of excitement.

By analyzing the GEBT white paper, we can clearly see the appeal and future potential of this project. However, before making a decision to participate, I would like to invite everyone to join me in deeply examining the following key points to ensure that every decision we make is based on rational and scientific judgment:

First, as an investment project, we must ask ourselves one question: Does the risk and reward of this project align? Is it close to zero risk? This is a critical question that every investor must deeply consider. After all, the core of investing is not just pursuing high returns; it's more important to control risks and ensure the safety of our capital.

We all understand that the foundation of a happy family lies in economic stability. This stability is not just peace of mind, but the soil in which love and tolerance grow. If the economic foundation of a family is unstable, no matter how much warmth and understanding there is, happiness is unlikely to last. And this principle applies equally in the world of investing. The essence of investing is controlling risk, protecting capital, and pursuing steady growth.

Before participating in the GEBT project, we need to carefully weigh several important factors: Does this project have long-term growth potential? Can its technology and business model truly address the market's pain points? Most importantly, have we established sufficient capital protection mechanisms to mitigate potential risks?

Why was TRUMP Coin able to generate a 450x return in just two days? The answer is actually quite simple. Aside from its commemorative value, TRUMP Coin has almost no real project value. What truly made it achieve this miracle is the powerful personal brand of the U.S. President as its backing. This kind of phenomenon is a legendary effect that is hard to replicate in the crypto market.

However, investment opportunities do not end there. Compared to single cases like TRUMP Coin, IEO (Initial Exchange Offering) projects offer higher stability and sustainability. IEOs are carefully selected projects by mainstream exchanges, issued after rigorous vetting by the exchange. This method of issuance not only enhances the credibility of the project, but more importantly, it ensures that tokens can circulate on major exchanges, bringing a much broader market space.

GEBT, as a high-quality IEO project, has already passed the strict review of the COINXIAI Exchange and has opened for public subscription. The security of the project is now beyond doubt. So, as investors, how can we participate, earn profits, and mitigate risks?

How to participate in the GEBT IEO and achieve zero-risk profits?

1. Monitor the Progress Bar: The Key Indicator for Investment

Unlike stock IPOs, the success of an IEO is closely linked to the progress of the project's subscription. As long as the progress bar reaches over 100%, it guarantees premium space, meaning "100% profit." As retail investors, it is recommended to participate in the subscription only after the progress bar reaches 100%, as this nearly ensures zero risk and stable profits. Typically, quality projects attract large institutional funds that subscribe early, pushing the progress bar to 100% and beyond.

2. Optimal Timing: Subscription Strategy

If you're confident in the project, you can subscribe as soon as the progress bar starts, gaining an early advantage. Once the progress bar reaches 100%, your subscription allocation is more likely to be prioritized. For more conservative investors, waiting until the progress bar exceeds 100% before subscribing ensures that the tokens you acquire are "guaranteed profits."

3. Current Progress: GEBT's Strong Performance

Currently, GEBT's subscription progress bar is close to 200%. This not only reflects strong confidence from institutions and large investors but also proves the project's market recognition and future potential. In other words, if you are allocated tokens, the subscription should at least bring you a 100% return. This is why GEBT has become a star project in the current IEO market.

4. Capital Security: Risk Control

Any funds not allocated during the subscription will be returned to your account after the subscription ends, ensuring that even if you don't get allocated tokens, your funds are completely safe. For those who are allocated tokens, they can sell them on the first day of listing to lock in profits or choose to wait a few days until the price increases further before deciding whether to sell entirely.

5. IEO vs. IPO: Huge Potential for Gains

The price increase in IEOs typically far exceeds that of traditional stock IPOs. Take Ethereum (ETH) as an example: its initial offering price was about $0.31, and today its market price has soared above $3000, reflecting a growth of 967,641.94%. This kind of performance is exactly why IEO projects are so eye-catching in the crypto market.

GEBT is not just an IEO project; it is a fusion of innovation and dreams. With blockchain technology at its core, it is dedicated to advancing data security, sharing efficiency, and authenticity in the field of biotechnology. From DNA research to breakthroughs in neural interface technology, GEBT represents a future full of potential. As part of the IEO, its market premium potential is already beginning to emerge.

Since many friends are encountering IEO new coin listing projects for the first time, I recommend that you first take the time to learn and understand more. Of course, if you're an aggressive investor, you can refer to the experience I shared earlier: start subscribing once the progress bar exceeds 100%. This is the safest approach because subscriptions follow the "time priority" and "fund priority" principles, with allocations based on a proportional system. The system will automatically allocate subscription limits considering both your subscription time and the amount of capital. As long as the progress bar exceeds 100%, the project will generate a premium, and being allocated tokens means 100% profit, which is what we refer to as "zero risk."

Dear friends, IEOs are one of the most attractive investment opportunities in today's crypto market, and GEBT is undoubtedly the next step that requires our focused attention. Opportunities are always reserved for those who are willing to take action and dare to try. If you want to find your next leap in the blue ocean of the crypto market, then GEBT is a choice you cannot afford to miss.

Looking back at last year's successful new coin project, DeFi Warriors, which saw a nearly 300% increase after its listing, it once again proves the immense appeal and astonishing potential returns of quality IEO projects in the market.

In comparison, although IPO projects in the stock market also saw significant gains, they still pale in comparison to the growth seen in crypto market IEOs.

What's even more noteworthy is that GEBT is focused on "gene editing," a highly advanced and attention-grabbing field. This sector has not only attracted significant research resources but also caught the attention of countless investors. It is easy to imagine that, with further breakthroughs in gene editing technology, GEBT will become a star project in the biotechnology field. This has also been endorsed by the strict review of the COINXIAI Exchange.

Based on the current subscription progress, the market heat and institutional participation in GEBT are very high, indicating significant premium potential after its listing. The rise in the progress bar reflects the increasing market recognition of the project, and as the subscription continues to advance, the premium space will become even clearer. Moving forward, I will continue to track GEBT and provide the latest updates and analysis for everyone.

Closing Commentary (α & β Strategy)

Good afternoon, community members!

I'm Samuel Blackwood. This morning, Helmsman was not just analyzing market trends but also drawing up the blueprint for our next financial leap. He has precisely locked in the pulse of the crypto market and identified the next key support level, this could be our opportunity for a 900% profit surge! Can you feel the exciting anticipation? This is not just market volatility, it's our moon landing mission to traverse the wealth universe, and our VIP partners are witnessing their accounts soar into exponential growth like rockets.

As Helmsman said, 2025 is the dawn of the crypto market, and it's the best window for ordinary people to achieve a wealth leap. But opportunities are always fleeting, and not everyone can seize them. There will always be those who succeed and those who stagnate, and what ultimately decides where you stand is your choices and your ability to take action. Will you choose to watch and hesitate, or will you go all in and take bold action? The market doesn't favor anyone; the only difference is, are you willing to choose to stand on the right side? Opportunities don't wait, they always belong to those who dare to act and go all out.

I know, some of you are still hesitating, still watching, still lingering. The question is, will waiting make you wealthier, or will you miss the opportunity to ride the wave of wealth? While you're still considering, others are already sprinting full speed ahead, locking in their future. Do you want to be the one who misses the 2025 crypto bull market and regrets it in a few years?

The Helmsman has set an unprecedentedly high standard, ensuring that each of our VIP partners can achieve their goals while maximizing their returns. In this battle, we are not just traders; we are the market leaders, the architects of the future wealth landscape.

Looking at the market, the expectation for a stock market correction is now clear. Kiyosaki's views align perfectly with our previous prediction of a February index pullback, the bull market is at a turning point, and the market has become extremely volatile, inevitably leading to a correction. This is why Helmsman has always taught us to never participate in the final wave of profits in the market. When the stock market is trapped in high-level fluctuations and the potential risks grow, behind every major surge is institutional money quietly withdrawing, while retail investors remain immersed in the "bull market euphoria." Smart investors are already shifting toward more stable and higher-yielding areas. And AlphaStream 5.0 is the most reliable trading tool in this market shift, combining big data algorithms to lock in trend movements, and it has maintained an undefeated record to date!

At the same time, the profit effects in the crypto market continue to unfold, not only due to the support of technology and innovation but also because it has become a safe-haven asset in the current global financial environment. Amidst global monetary easing and rising inflation, capital is flowing into the crypto market on a large scale, and this trend has only just begun.

So, guys, are you ready? Now is the moment for us to redefine our wealth trajectory! Go all in and take bold action! The 2025 Crypto Year has begun, and this is not just a trading battle; it's a wealth revolution that belongs to us. Let's charge toward the moon, and even further into the stars!

QTM COMMUNITY

Look at the VIX volatility index, it has been consolidating at low levels for too long. This silence is often a precursor to an impending explosion, once the VIX starts to surge, a market correction is a foregone conclusion! The current market sentiment is extremely fragile, especially with high-tech stocks. Those seemingly strong stocks are quietly entering a slow decline. What does this mean? It means the market is building up downward momentum, while investors are still lost in the illusion of a bull market!

What's even more dangerous? The new earnings season is approaching, and the market has already overvalued tech stocks. If earnings fail to deliver growth above expectations, or even if they meet expectations but the market doesn't give them a premium, the only outcome waiting for them is a crash! Did you see Nvidia's drop today? This is no coincidence, it's a clear signal that the market is already pricing in the expected correction. The storm of the February stock market adjustment is already brewing, and smart money is retreating, while slow-moving retail investors are still fantasizing about the last profits!

If you're still debating about opportunities in the stock market, I can only tell you: choice is more important than effort! You need to understand that high-priced stocks no longer have much room for significant gains, while the risks keep accumulating. In this situation, the smartest decision is to let go of small, uncertain opportunities and shift towards a more certain wealth windfall! What you should really do is enter a broader, more profitable market, and that market is right in front of you, the crypto market!

Why am I absolutely confident about this? The reason is simple, the power of new investors. In any investment market worldwide, whether it's stocks, real estate, or crypto, the entry of sovereign wealth funds and new investors is always the catalyst for market activity. And right now, we are in this historic phase.

So, what's the current market situation? The influx of funds from new investors is still in its early stages, and market valuations have yet to reach historic peaks. The proportion of short-term holders has surged to over 48%, and in some developed countries, it even exceeds this figure. This situation is almost identical to mid-2020, shortly after which, we witnessed the explosive bull market with Bitcoin prices increasing sevenfold.

Historical data clearly tells us one rule: when the proportion of new investors exceeds 90%, the market will reach its peak. But right now, the market is nowhere near that critical point, it's only just beginning. 2025, hailed as the "Crypto Year One," will see sovereign wealth funds from various countries continuing to enter the market. Their deep involvement will serve as the rocket engine driving Bitcoin to new all-time highs.

Do you remember the key buying point at $60,000? At that time, Helmsman clearly told the community that this was a certainty opportunity, with a target of $100,000. Many people listened and decisively bought in, making a fortune. Those who hesitated can only regret now. This is the market, this is trading, opportunities never wait, but smart people take decisive action and seize their own wealth window.

Right now, Bitcoin is undergoing a volatile adjustment, but this is just a temporary technical pullback. What we're about to see next is $150,000? $200,000? Or even higher? Does this sound like a fantasy? No, this is the reality that's unfolding!

A historic turning point is right in front of us. The continuous influx of new investors, combined with Bitcoin's halving, strategic positioning by sovereign wealth funds, deep involvement from Wall Street giants, and the enormous wealth opportunities in the crypto market in 2025, all point to one thing, the market is about to experience another major explosion!

But you need to understand one thing: when all investors around the world are rushing into the crypto market, the real opportunities will gradually decrease. What you need to do is not wait until everyone else sees the trend, but to take the lead and decisively seize the most certain opportunities! The current market environment perfectly aligns with our AlphaStream 5.0 trading system. No matter what the market conditions are, we can leverage precise trading signals, trade in both directions, and consistently create high returns.

This is a wealth revolution, a historic opportunity to change the future. The Bitcoin bull market has only just begun, and every market fluctuation represents a new redistribution of wealth. The future belongs to those who dare to act, to those who are willing to seize opportunities. Rather than watching from the sidelines, it's better to take action, rather than hesitating, it's better to act decisively. Guys, time waits for no one, and neither do opportunities! The true winners are always those who dare to make decisions and go all in!

This is not just about data growth, but the ultimate validation of our stable profit system! Look at our performance in the Battle of King Profit Plan, +300%, +600%, +1000%, which were once seen as ultimate goals, and today, we are steadily turning these goals into reality!

Under the Helmsman's leadership and with the precise trading signals of AlphaStream 5.0, our profits have exceeded expectations and entered an accelerated growth phase. Now, let's revisit these exciting numbers:

- ✓ VIP1 partner total asset return: +160.42%
- ✓ VIP2 partner total asset return: +337.91%
- ✓ VIP3 partner total asset return: +863.38%

These are not theoretical data; they are the results of our team's collective efforts. More importantly, +300%, +600%, +1000% are no longer the end, but a new starting point!

This week, we are heading into a true profit sprint. If all trading strategies proceed as expected, we will not only reach our targets but break through the sky! This is not just about wealth growth, it's about mastering market patterns, and it's the entirely new trading experience brought by AlphaStream 5.0, truly intelligent, precise profits.

For VIP3 partners, reaching a 900% return is just around the corner, but does this really mean the end? Absolutely not!

Helmsman made it clear yesterday, he will do everything possible to help VIP1 and VIP2 partners catch up and ensure all partners reach their goals. This means that the profit targets for VIP3 won't stop, they will be challenged to achieve even higher returns! What's even more exciting is that we have already locked in an upcoming opportunity for a single trade with a potential 900% profit!

Yes, you heard that right, a 900% profit opportunity from a single trade is coming soon! This is not just about pushing the limits; it's a further validation of AlphaStream 5.0's high-win-rate trading system.

Guys, the exciting moment has arrived! Are you ready? The key question now is, are you prepared to go all in and reach the peak?

Imagine this: David, Robert, and Michael each joined the Battle of King Profit Plan with investments of $100,000, $500,000, and $1.5 million, respectively. They are positioned at the VIP1, VIP2, and VIP3 partner levels, each standing at a different starting point for their wealth leap. But they all share one common factor, they seized this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity and embarked on a journey toward exponential growth.

The trading philosophy that Helmsman proposed yesterday is not just another trading strategy, it is the core engine that ignites this wealth rocket. Through AlphaStream 5.0, with 1-2 precise trades per day, we're not just discussing profits, but an unimaginable risk-to-reward ratio. This is not only because of the enormous potential profits but also because our risk control mechanism is flawless, with every step being precise and controllable.

Why is this opportunity so rare? Because we have mastered a high-win-rate system that truly stands strong in the market. The precision of AlphaStream 5.0's trading signals is as high as 99.9%, meaning that even when the market experiences significant fluctuations, we can still ensure steady growth of our capital. There are no blind guesses, no unnecessary risks, just science, data, and exceptional execution. This is not speculation, it is the art of mastering the market.

At the VIP3 level, Michael's decisions have placed him in an absolutely advantageous position, with his capital experiencing an astonishing exponential growth. Robert and David are also steadily pushing towards returns of +300%, +600%, and even +900%! Every precise buy and sell, every follow of the AlphaStream 5.0 signals, is doubling and re-doubling their funds.

This is our victory, but more importantly, this is just the beginning. The larger your investment, the higher your VIP partner level, and the more exciting the trades you can participate in. With a market weapon like AlphaStream 5.0 and profit ratios that break through the ceiling, how can this not be the most worthwhile investment opportunity of your life?

Now, I want to ask you a question: Are you ready? Will you choose to keep watching, helplessly seeing others create wealth miracles, or will you choose to join us and seize this historic leap? The Battle of King Profit Plan is your opportunity. We don't just want to reach for the stars, we want to truly own them!

Guys, we've been discussing how to make safe investments, how to build a wealth matrix, how to ensure stable compounding, and even how to calculate maximum profits. Today, I want to use a vivid analogy to bring you into this exciting investment opportunity, imagine a white deer, symbolizing safety, wisdom, and wealth, slowly walking toward us. This is not just a lucky symbol, but the perfect metaphor for the hottest IEO project in the market, GEBT.

Let's be realistic, how do we identify low-risk, high-return investment opportunities in crypto market IEO projects? The key lies in the data, and the most intuitive data is the subscription progress bar. GEBT's issue price is set at 3 USDT, with a total issuance of 45 million tokens. As soon as the subscription opened today, I decisively took action when the progress bar surpassed 100%, just as the Helmsman shared in his strategy this morning. Why? Because this is a direct reflection of strong market demand for the project. When the subscription progress bar exceeds 100%, it means a premium has already formed, and when the progress bar reaches over 200%, it means that being allocated tokens guarantees at least a 100% profit. Missing such an investment opportunity is a waste!

Right now, the subscription progress bar for GEBT has surged to over 200%, clearly indicating strong confidence from market capital. As the subscription amount continues to exceed the issuance volume, market demand will further drive up its value. This is why I have not only participated in the subscription but will also closely monitor the subsequent data and even consider increasing my subscription. Because when all the data points to a certain premium space, what we need to do is take decisive action and maximize the profits.

The opportunity to subscribe to an IEO in the crypto market is fleeting, and the subscription progress bar is our "wealth radar." When it exceeds 100%, it indicates a low-risk, high-return project that perfectly aligns with the core concept of our wealth matrix, achieving the maximum certainty of profit with minimal risk. This model not only ensures the safety of our capital but also allows us to steadily move towards higher return targets.

If you're not yet familiar with how to operate, feel free to DM us, and our team will provide you with detailed strategies and guidance. Imagine, a world full of foresight and limitless possibilities is opening up to you, with prosperity waiting for your involvement and sharing, just like this mysterious white deer. What we're doing right now is not just targeting future wealth opportunities, but ensuring we secure our place in this market frenzy.

This is the meaning of the Battle of King Profit Plan: we are not just trading, we are shaping the future. Everyone, that concludes today's discussion. See you tomorrow! Let's continue moving forward toward our victory!
