Professor Quinlan Sutter (Helmsman)

Morning Review

Good morning, my friends!

I am Quinlan Sutter, your old friend. Every choice in your life may seem like it was orchestrated by divine providence, but the key lies in whether you can seize opportunities and avoid risks. As the Bible says, "The prudent see danger and take refuge, but the simple keep going and pay the penalty." In the current market environment, this wisdom is more essential than ever.

The stock market is currently in a high-volatility phase, and the correction in major tech stocks has already begun. Recent data and institutional capital flows have clearly indicated that risks are accumulating in the market. When market sentiment is euphoric and optimism runs rampant, that is often the moment when risks quietly emerge. Smart investors understand that beneath the surface of market exuberance, potential crises often lurk.

Utilizing institutional thinking to identify risks in advance and decisively avoid them is the key to successful investing. Over the past few months, we have observed many tech company executives cashing out their stocks at high levels, an unmistakable warning signal. Nothing in the capital markets happens by chance, especially when those at the core of the industry make strategic sell-offs. Each reduction in holdings is worth careful consideration. With earnings season approaching, the market faces heightened uncertainty. Many stocks have been running at elevated levels, but at this moment, buying momentum is weakening, and bullish sentiment is cooling down. If earnings reports fall even slightly below expectations, it could trigger a rapid shift in market sentiment, leading to a significant correction.

In this market environment, we must act decisively, proactively mitigate potential risks, and reduce exposure to high-priced stocks. For those already in overvalued territory, selling without hesitation is the only rational choice, do not waver or fall into the trap of a sudden correction. The market waits for no one. Smart investors understand the importance of following the trend rather than clinging to illusions of past prosperity.

But risk avoidance is only the first step, what truly matters is seizing new opportunities. Institutional thinking not only helps us anticipate risks but also enables us to adjust our asset allocation with precision, ensuring we remain on the winning side of market shifts. As the stock market enters a phase of high volatility, we must seek markets with greater certainty, and the crypto market stands out as one of the most compelling opportunities today. Through disciplined and strategic operations, we can not only sidestep the uncertainties of traditional markets but also capitalize on volatility to capture higher returns.

The key to investing is not blind optimism but the ability to adapt strategies flexibly, ensuring that capital remains in its most optimal allocation at all times. Now is the perfect moment to optimize asset allocation. Smart investors don't dwell on past successes, they maintain a forward-looking perspective, positioning themselves ahead of the next major battleground. Our goal is not just to avoid losses but to ensure that we maximize our ability to seize the next wave of wealth creation opportunities.

Yesterday, U.S. stocks closed lower, with market sentiment remaining cautious. As expected, the Federal Reserve kept interest rates unchanged in its first policy meeting of the year, aligning with market expectations. However, investors remain highly focused on inflation trends. Meanwhile, NVIDIA's stock, after a strong rally, experienced further pullback, as intensifying competition in the AI sector introduces new uncertainties for tech stocks.

The Federal Reserve decided to keep the federal funds rate unchanged within the 4.25% to 4.5% range, a decision that was largely anticipated. However, the wording of the policy statement revealed the Fed's cautious stance on inflation. They specifically emphasized that "the unemployment rate has remained low in recent months, and the labor market remains strong, but inflation is still slightly elevated." Clearly, the Fed is in no rush to cut rates and prefers to exercise greater patience in addressing inflation concerns.

Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell stated during the press conference that he has had no contact with former President Trump. The market initially dropped nearly 1% intraday but pared losses after Powell's remarks. The 10-year U.S. Treasury yield rose by 2 basis points to 4.55%, while the U.S. Dollar Index remained relatively stable.

Meanwhile, Bloomberg reported that following the release of the DeepSeek AI model, Trump administration officials are discussing the possibility of restricting the company's chip sales to China. This development introduced new concerns into market sentiment, leading to a sharp intraday decline in Nvidia's stock, which ultimately closed down 4%. The competition in the AI sector is intensifying, and DeepSeek AI's emergence has raised fresh questions about U.S. tech giants' expenditures and profitability. Wall Street strategists widely believe this event could lead to continued volatility in tech stocks. However, in the long run, the declining cost of AI technology is expected to enhance overall economic efficiency and help contain inflation, potentially serving as a "net positive" for the market.

For this week, the sharp volatility in tech stocks continues, with Nvidia down more than 13% cumulatively. While market expectations for unchanged interest rates have been fully priced in, equities remain in a high-level consolidation phase. Yesterday's pullback was largely a correction driven by short sellers rather than a fundamental shift. At this point, high-level volatility is expected to persist, and the short-term market direction will depend on further statements from the Federal Reserve as well as policy developments in the AI sector.

The number of initial jobless claims announced this morning was 207,000, lower than both the previous value and market expectations, indicating that the U.S. labor market remains robust and economic resilience is still strong. This data further solidifies the Federal Reserve's stance on keeping interest rates unchanged and has cooled market expectations for a rate cut in the short term.

At the same time, the divergence in global monetary policies is intensifying. The European Central Bank just announced a 25 basis point reduction in deposit rates, which aligns with market expectations and highlights the uniqueness of the Federal Reserve's continued strong dollar policy, particularly as global central banks generally enter a rate-cutting cycle. As global monetary policies adjust, capital flows are undergoing subtle shifts, and market volatility is increasing.

With expectations for a Federal Reserve rate cut cooling, there is some short-term pressure on tech stocks. While some investors are still hoping for a rate cut later this year, the stability of the current employment data has reduced market confidence in a rate cut before June. The high valuations of tech stocks were built on expectations of loose liquidity, and as the timing of rate cuts is pushed further out, market sentiment may become more cautious. Today's market movements are expected to be dominated by sideways adjustments, particularly for the big tech stocks that have recently seen significant gains, which may face more selling pressure.

The crypto market, on the other hand, is operating on a completely different rhythm. The Federal Reserve's decision to keep rates unchanged means that institutional investors still have a strong demand for safe-haven assets, and Bitcoin, as "digital gold," remains one of the preferred choices for capital allocation. Furthermore, the global wave of rate cuts means liquidity will gradually improve, and ample liquidity is often one of the catalysts for crypto market rallies.

Bitcoin is still in a consolidation pattern in the short term, but as the global rate-cutting environment gradually takes shape, the long-term bullish factors for the crypto market are steadily accumulating. When market sentiment shifts from cautious to optimistic, funds will quickly flow back into the crypto market, driving the next wave of market growth. And all of this is just a matter of time.

As Samuel Blackwood mentioned yesterday, while we can still monitor the stock market, this is not the time to invest excessive energy or increase positions. We are facing a market cycle that is entering a high-level consolidation phase, with the potential for a major correction at any moment. Smart investors never make the wrong choices at the wrong time. At this moment, the most strategic move and the most certain opportunity lie within the crypto market.

The 450x return on TRUMP Coin in just two days has stunned investors worldwide. This isn't just a peak moment in the crypto market, it's a breakout of market sentiment. Yes, the early subscription for TRUMP Coin was nearly inaccessible to the average investor. It was an exclusive opportunity reserved for those within former President Trump's inner circle. But does this mean we have no choice but to miss out, with no way to find our own wealth catalyst in the crypto market? Absolutely not!

Now, the dawn of Crypto Year 2025 has arrived. Opportunities have never been clearer, and the paths we can take have never been more diverse:

- Contract Trading – A steady way to boost profits, enabling capital to grow rapidly in the short term.

- Spot Investments – Bitcoin, the foundation of the crypto market, is entering a new wave of growth. Even if short-term corrections occur, the long-term trend remains firmly intact.
- ICO Market – The hottest sector global investors are chasing. New opportunities are emerging constantly, and high-quality IEO projects like GEBT have already drawn significant capital attention.

What is the core of profitable investing? It's about precisely capturing market certainty, not blindly chasing trends that have already passed. If you missed TRUMP coin, don't feel regret because the 2025 crypto market is only just beginning. This is our era, an era of opportunity for those who dare to take action.

Like stars traversing the cosmos, AlphaStream 5.0 - The Crypto Oscars (300-900%) Profit Challenge has accompanied us for weeks. Under the steady compounding principle, our VIP partners have already achieved remarkable returns: +160.42%, +337.91%, and +863.38% in average asset growth and this was accomplished without any additional trades!

So, how have your results been? If you're a latecomer, don't worry, opportunity is still yours to seize! Send me a direct message now to receive exclusive strategy guidance and trading signals, helping you quickly integrate, position yourself at the right momentum, and capitalize on the immense opportunities in the crypto market.

Take Note: This week, the market is brewing new opportunities. With BTC pulling back in waves, the +900% trading plan is about to launch. Once initiated, it will serve as a powerful engine for our asset growth. The recent profit momentum in the crypto market has been remarkable, yet Bitcoin continues to consolidate. After testing the $97,000 support level, bulls swiftly stepped in, pushing the price back up. In reality, after a strong prior uptrend, the market needs a healthy correction to shake out early profit-takers and absorb upward pressure.

For us, this correction is not just a normal market phenomenon, but rather a golden opportunity to reposition! Before a major trend truly takes off, the market always undergoes short-term fluctuations, this is the moment when smart money steps in. We have already identified the optimal entry points, and now, our task is to stay committed, execute with precision, and seize this strategic positioning opportunity.

After the completion of the Battle of King Profit Plan, our AlphaStream 5.0 launch plan and the QTM Community Charity Fund issuance will proceed simultaneously. Meanwhile, in March, I will release a professional report on the most valuable stock portfolio for 2025, using institutional thinking. We know that the market is cyclical. Currently, we are creating brilliance in the crypto market, and in the future, after the next round of growth begins, we will make a strong return to the stock market, re-entering the battlefield as saviors!

Imagine this, when that moment arrives, every member of the QTM community will stand as the most dazzling force in the market. We are not impulsive retail investors chasing after fleeting trends. We are battle-tested strategists, masters of precision-timed market execution. By then, we won't just be armed with the most advanced trading system, AlphaStream 5.0, but also an investment strategy forged through real-world victories. This is our era. This is our moment to create a legend!

But my friends, right now, every decision matters more than ever before.

This week's focus: completing the 900% trading plan. You might be wondering, what's our strategy? My answer is simple: wait for Bitcoin's pullback and seize the golden entry point at key support levels.

Why Are We Still Bullish on Bitcoin?

Bitcoin has already crossed the $100,000 mark, but it's important to note that the market has yet to experience extreme FOMO (fear of missing out).

◆ On-Chain Data Supports This View:

According to CryptoQuant, the proportion of Bitcoin held by new investors, tracked through Unspent Transaction Outputs (UTXO), is far from the peak levels seen in previous bull markets (2013, 2017, and 2021). Historically, at market tops, new investors hold more than 70% of Bitcoin's UTXOs. Currently, this percentage is just slightly above half, suggesting there is still room for further upside and that Bitcoin has not yet reached a cycle top.

- ◆ Sideways Consolidation Signals a Breakout:

Bitcoin has been consolidating around the $100,000 level for over two months, and such prolonged horizontal movement often precedes a major rally. If Bitcoin closes above $110,000 on the daily chart, the next target will be $145,000.

- ◆ Market Sentiment Remains Positive, but the Euphoria Won't Last Forever:

As Samuel Blackwood pointed out yesterday, once bullish sentiment reaches its peak and a flood of new institutional and retail investors rush in, the market will inevitably enter an overheated phase, followed by sharp corrections. Therefore, our strategy is to precisely time the market and maximize the massive profit opportunities in crypto before the cycle peaks.

2025: The Crypto Year of a Lifetime

The Most Insane Opportunity, and the Last One. This year marks the most explosive investment window in crypto history, and we are positioned right at the epicenter of this financial revolution. The opportunity is right in front of us, but the real question is: Are you ready? Are you willing to go all in?

However, for those who will have AlphaStream 5.0 in the future, market ups and downs will no longer matter. In a fair, transparent, and bidirectional tradable market, AlphaStream 5.0 will become your greatest weapon for consistent, stable profits! Whether in a bull market or a bear market, whether prices are rising or falling, we will always find profit opportunities in the market, this is true institutional thinking, this is the Battle of King!

Friends, our goal is not to be followers of the market, but to be its leaders. In every decision we make for the future, let's stand at the highest level of market insight, execute with the most precise strategies, and claim the greatest victories!

The opportunity is right in front of you, are you ready?

Next, let's dive deep into the world of high-quality IEO investments. Do you remember when I mentioned that the peak of the 2017 bull market was fueled by IEOs? Throughout the history of the crypto market, Initial Exchange Offerings (IEOs) have remained one of the safest and most growth-oriented investment sectors. This is because IEOs are backed by rigorous exchange audits and focus exclusively on projects with long-term value. This time, IEOs are once again set to play a pivotal role in this bull market, becoming the center of attention for the entire market!

However, it is important to note that IEOs come with higher technical and user participation thresholds. Unlike the widely accessible ICOs of the past, today's IEOs are increasingly tailored toward specific industries, particularly emerging technologies with the potential to reshape the world. This shift not only reflects stricter vetting processes but also greater return potential for those who can successfully navigate this evolving investment landscape.

In this explosive phase of the crypto market, Bitcoin and Ethereum are undeniably the leading protagonists, while IEOs, DeFi, and NFTs play supporting roles in the market's rotational cycles. We are witnessing a clear trend, as major cryptocurrencies break new highs, capital is actively seeking the next big opportunity. In this process, high-quality IEO projects are emerging as the focal point of investor interest.

Why is IEO so Attractive?

- ◆ High Return Potential – Looking at past bull market cycles, many IEO projects have outperformed Bitcoin, often demonstrating greater explosive growth.
- ◆ Institutional & Exchange Endorsement – IEOs are carefully vetted by major exchanges, filtering out low-quality projects and significantly enhancing investment security.
- ◆ Powered by Cutting-Edge Technology – From gene editing, IoT, AI, to DeFi, disruptive innovations are entering the mainstream through IEOs, creating unprecedented market opportunities.

In past market cycles, we have witnessed countless IEO projects reshaping entire industries. Today, we are standing at the dawn of a new era, 2025 is set to be the breakout year for the crypto market, and high-quality IEO projects will be one of the key driving forces behind this bull run.

When it comes to the expected listing returns of high-quality IEOs, their profitability often far exceeds that of traditional stock IPOs. Let's take one of the most iconic cases: Ethereum (ETH). As one of the earliest IEO projects, Ethereum was initially issued at around $0.31, while its current market price hovers near $3,100, a staggering +990,900% increase. This phenomenal growth has completely transformed the financial trajectory of countless investors!

It's not just Ethereum, projects like IOTA and NEO have also experienced similar exponential growth. IOTA surged by an impressive +30,280%, while NEO delivered an astonishing +46,933%! These market miracles time and again prove that IEOs are among the most attractive investment opportunities in the crypto space. Not only do they offer immense growth potential, but they also undergo rigorous screening by major exchanges, making them safer and more reliable investment choices.

Now, let's turn our attention to GEBT, the latest IEO project that is quickly becoming the center of market attention. Based on the subscription progress, market enthusiasm has far exceeded expectations, with the subscription rate already surpassing 250%! This overwhelming demand strongly indicates that GEBT's listing premium could significantly exceed our initial projections. Given the current influx of capital, the final subscription rate is likely to surpass 500%, which could push GEBT's opening price to $14 or even higher. For early investors, this presents an undeniable risk-free arbitrage opportunity!

More importantly, the subscription period closes on February 1 at 12:00 PM EST, meaning we have a final opportunity to participate. Once the subscription ends, results will be announced immediately after 12:00 PM on February 1, and any unsuccessful bids will be fully refunded to the original account, ensuring maximum capital efficiency. This is not only a highly secure investment opportunity, but also a golden chance to gain early entry into the crypto market and seize first-mover advantage!

As I have emphasized before, once the progress bar exceeds 100%, securing a subscription is a guaranteed profit opportunity. If you have already subscribed, congratulations, you've secured an early advantage in this massive opportunity. However, if you're still hesitating, now is the best time to take action! Larger investors and early subscribers hold a significant advantage in the allocation process, ensuring a higher probability of securing shares and maximizing their potential returns. Don't wait, position yourself ahead of the curve today!

Friends, this is our historic moment! We have witnessed the 450x return of TRUMP coin in just two days, and now, GEBT is set to be the next big opportunity. If you're still waiting, opportunity won't wait for you. In the game of wealth, the winners are always those who dare to take action! 🕒 🚀

Closing Commentary (α & β Strategy)

Good afternoon, members of the community!

I'm Samuel Blackwood. This morning, Helmsman shared how to use institutional thinking to navigate the current market risks and opportunities. I believe this is crucial for us, ordinary investors. Investing is not just about putting money into the market, it's also a battle of mindset and strategic choices. I've noticed that many people's investment mindset has become rigid. When risks arise or opportunities appear, they often realize too late. This delayed reaction is exactly what causes them to become passive during market fluctuations.

Guys, the real winners are always those who plan ahead and take the initiative. When the market signals risks, we should act decisively to avoid them, rather than panic and try to fix things after the losses have already piled up. Have you noticed that recently, many executives from major tech companies have been selling off large amounts of stock at high prices, while these companies continue to release seemingly positive news? This is a classic warning sign, indicating that a market correction may be just around the corner. At times like this, smart investors quickly adjust their portfolios to protect their capital, instead of blindly staying optimistic.

The same principle applies to new investment opportunities, we should enter early, rather than waiting until the market has already gone up and then chasing the price. A slow-paced investment approach can make you miss out on wealth. For example, in the crypto market, the Helmsman has repeatedly emphasized that Bitcoin presents an excellent opportunity to build long positions at key support levels. Looking back at our previous setups

- We positioned for a medium-term long at the $60,000 range, with a target of $100,000, and it was successfully achieved!
- After breaking $100,000, we re-entered at $90,000 on the pullback, waiting for the next round of upward movement.

Those who took action early have already secured substantial profits in the spot market, and those participating in the Battle of Kings Profit Plan have seen even more impressive returns. If you've been sitting on the sidelines, hesitating, then unfortunately, you've missed the best entry point. But the good news is, it's not too late for you to join now, although you have missed out on the early excess profits. And this is the core point I want to emphasize:

The cost of what you've missed is far greater than the cost of trial and error. Whether in investing or other areas of life, the true successful individuals are those who progress through trial and error. Just look at those business giants and industry leaders – which one didn't find the path to success through repeated attempts? Investment is no different. Passive waiting will only have you missing out on opportunities again and again, whereas taking the initiative is a necessary quality for market winners.

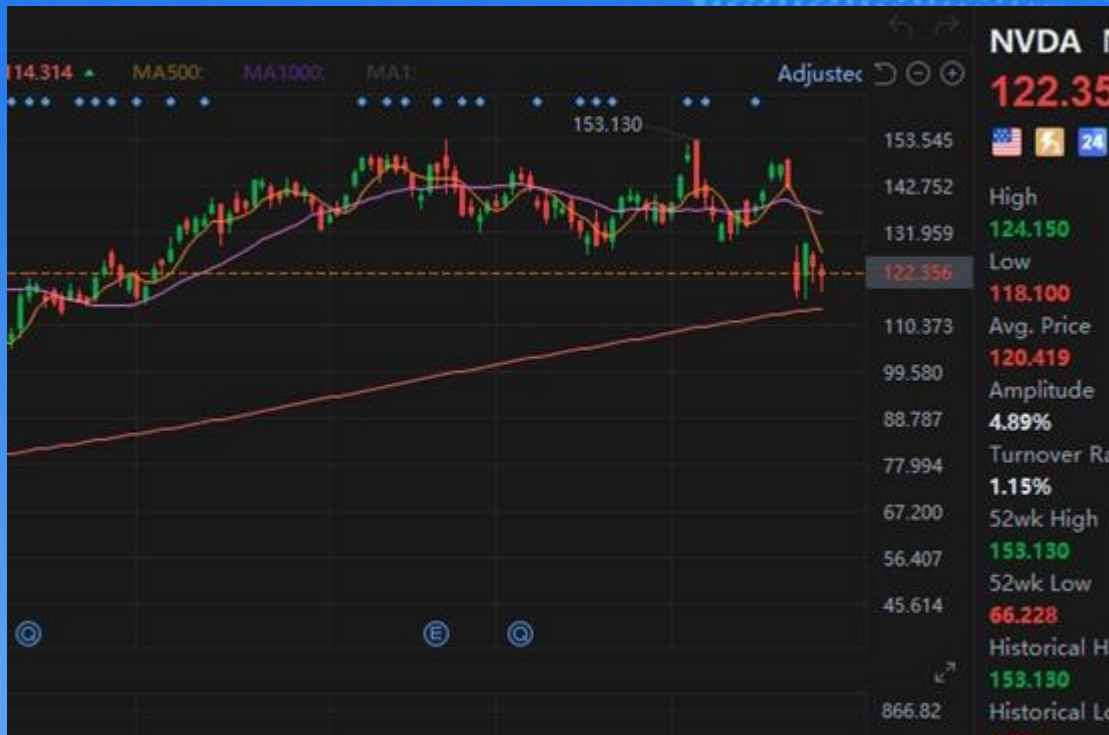

Guys, initiative is the key to success! You need to actively participate and make smart investment decisions, rather than hesitating and waiting for the market to hand you opportunities. If you truly want to achieve remarkable results in the Battle of Kings, then let go of your doubts and take action now. The opportunity is still here, the question is whether you're willing to seize it. Learn from the Helmsman’s institutional thinking, act decisively at the critical moments, and remain calm and rational, not swayed by short-term fluctuations. Only then can you continually build an advantage, secure a favorable position in the market, and achieve long-term, stable, and consistent profits!

So, here’s the question, will you continue to sit on the sidelines, or will you take the initiative and move toward the true peak of wealth? The opportunity is right in front of you, and the decision is in your hands!

Back to the market, today the three major indices continued to show slight fluctuations at high levels. MEAT reached a new all-time high before pulling back, while AI tech stocks like Nvidia and Microsoft entered a downtrend for adjustment. The current high-level fluctuation of the "Magnificent Seven" in the U.S. stock market is unlikely to change in the short term. When the stock prices of these tech giants reach relatively high levels, it's a signal that warrants caution, especially with the market's expectations of interest rate cuts declining. This has a significant impact on the high-valuation tech stocks.

According to Goldman Sachs' trading update and industry data this week, the global sell-off in tech stocks has led to losses worth billions of dollars, with the catalyst being the rise of low-cost AI models from China. While Goldman Sachs did not disclose specific hedge fund losses, data from hedge fund research firm BarclayHedge indicates that the losses from Monday's sell-off could amount to billions of dollars. By the end of Q3 2024, hedge funds managed $176.7 billion in assets, with many funds heavily invested in the growth of tech stocks. This strategy is currently facing a harsh market test. So far this year, the average return for equity hedge funds has only grown by 1.5%. In the current high-valuation market environment, many institutional funds are starting to retreat, with some even shorting the market and abandoning riskier stock assets.

As Helmsman emphasized, when institutions that built positions at the bottom begin to sell off their holdings, and the market lacks sufficient buying pressure to take over, a price decline and adjustment become inevitable. The market has been giving increasingly clearer signals, leaving 10% of funds in the stock market and shifting 90% into the crypto market is proving to be the right strategy! Compared to the exhausted buying pressure in the stock market, the flow of funds in the crypto market presents a completely different scenario, new institutional investors and new individual investors are continuously pouring in.

I mentioned yesterday that a market can only continue to push prices higher when new investors are consistently entering. If funds start to exit the market, opportunities will gradually disappear. The current stock market is becoming the perfect example, high-level fluctuations, exhausted buying pressure, and loosening tech stock positions. All signals point to an inevitable adjustment.

So, smart investors have already gone with the flow, shifting their funds to the crypto market to seize the real opportunities with certainty. Meanwhile, those still holding on to high-tech stocks, waiting for a market miracle, will only watch as their capital shrinks. The market doesn't wait for anyone, opportunities always belong to those who are prepared and act decisively.

It's time to think about your next move, will you continue to hold onto a stock market that's about to lose its growth momentum, or will you decisively follow the flow of funds, position yourself in the crypto market, and embrace the real wealth explosion?

He not only provides the fulcrum but has also found the most efficient leverage, allowing us to move greater wealth. Guys, the VIP partners just shared a highly accurate trading signal! I just checked the charts, this is a short-cycle, high-efficiency trading setup. The opportunity is fleeting and expected to complete in a flash!

Guys, many friends have recently asked about GEBT, this high-quality IEO project. It is making waves in the revolutionary field of gene editing, and there's no doubt it has become a star project in the market. Imagine an opportunity that not only has the potential to change the way we live but also holds massive investment potential, that's the value of GEBT!

Yesterday, when the subscription progress bar surpassed 110%, I decisively increased my investment, and today I'm continuing to add more funds to the subscription! Since the market has confirmed strong premium potential, for us, this is a zero-risk investment opportunity. As for how much we can earn after the official launch, that will depend on the final data of the subscription progress bar and GEBT's online subscription progress has already skyrocketed to 350%! This means the opening price is very likely to far exceed the expected 10.5 USDT, which not only affirms the market's recognition of GEBT's value but also marks a huge victory for us early investors!

Compared to high-volatility, high-risk contract trading, GEBT is clearly a much safer, zero-risk option. When compared to fixed-income investment products, GEBT completely outperforms with higher returns and a shorter capital usage cycle, undoubtedly making it a shining star in the investment field. This is not just a short-term speculative opportunity, but a true value capture, a golden window that allows us to achieve capital appreciation in a short period of time.

Guys, we've just completed an incredible trading adventure, congratulations to every member for steadily securing profits once again! 🎯 🔥 This is not just a trade, but another milestone in our ability to control the market and execute precise strategies! Through my trading strategy model, you've all personally experienced steady returns and precise execution, this is the true power of scientific investing!

Now, it's time to make our gains even more valuable! 🚀 By putting 50% of this profit into a 30-day investment product, not only will our assets continue to grow, but it will also allow our capital to safely accumulate compound interest, making the profits work for us automatically and preparing stronger ammunition for our next move. Smart investors aren't satisfied with short-term gains; they know how to maximize every bit of profit, making money work for them and infinitely amplifying their wealth!

On this journey to the peak of our dreams, our Helmsman, the seasoned captain of the financial seas has shown us the four great beacons in trading. These are the core principles that support our continued profits and long-term strategy. We follow the zero-mistake principle, only making the highest-probability trades to ensure every move is a precise strike, we adhere to a low-risk, high-return strategy, strictly controlling drawdowns to guarantee more wins and fewer losses, with stable profit growth; we understand the magic of compound interest, reinvesting earnings to build a wealth snowball and create exponential asset growth; and we uphold the wisdom of diversification, strategically allocating across the stock market, crypto market, and investment products to ensure we maintain control in any market environment!

So, crew, are you ready to have our treasure continue working for us this weekend? 🚩👁️💰 The market never sleeps, and neither should the growth of our wealth! Right now, we are standing at a critical point, where every trade, every investment decision, is a milestone on our journey toward higher goals!

Stay on top of the latest developments and keep the communication flowing, this is not just our strategy, but the rule that leads us to victory! Opportunities don't wait for anyone, but they always favor those who are ready at all times! Keep an eye on the market trends to ensure we make precise moves and seize every profit opportunity. Today's analysis is just the beginning. As the market evolves and more information is revealed, our strategy will continuously be optimized and upgraded to ensure every step we take is on the right path!

Every investment is a stepping stone toward a greater goal; every correct decision is a foundation for a brilliant future! Guys, this is not a fantasy, but a reality we are about to achieve! 🚀🔥 The future belongs to us, let's move forward boldly, together!
