Professor Quinlan Sutter (Helmsman)

Morning Review

Good morning, my friends!

I'm Quinlan Sutter, your old friend. Looking back, each of us will encounter a few opportunities in life that can truly change our destiny. The key is not how many opportunities there are, but whether we can seize them at the right moment. Many times, it's our choices that determine the outcome. As Einstein once said, "Insanity is doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results." This is just as true in investing and life. We must constantly reflect on our choices, be brave enough to make changes, and only then can we welcome a different future.

The Bible says, "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways." This is a reminder to us, that God has different paths and opportunities planned for each of us. The question is: are you willing to step out of your comfort zone and bravely seize these opportunities?

Investing is an important way to change your destiny and improve your financial situation. A family's financial status determines its happiness level. The accumulation of wealth is not about luck, but rather a reflection of wisdom, understanding, and execution. Warren Buffett once said, "Risk comes from not knowing what you're doing." This is exactly why we must learn diligently, analyze rationally, and find a steady path to profit amidst market fluctuations. Investing is not gambling, it's about mastering information and making rational decisions.

For many people, investing is not only a tool for growing assets but also a platform for achieving life's dreams. Are you investing for your children's education, for your family's happiness, or for your own life goals? Whatever the goal, the right investment can lead us to a better future. But remember, investing is never an overnight success, it requires patience, wisdom, and perseverance.

The Bible teaches us, "Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might." This is not just a saying of faith, but a life philosophy. Only by giving our best can we have peace of mind; only by taking bold action can we truly take control of our destiny. When the future looks back at today, we don't want to regret missing the opportunities that could have changed our lives. Friends, take that bold step and embrace the brilliance that belongs to you!

In conversations with members of the community, I've found that many people are eager to change their destiny through investing. Some are full of dreams, others have clear ideas, but few actually take the step to act. Giants in thought, yet dwarfs in action, this might be the fundamental reason why so many have yet to cross the threshold of wealth.

If you've been following our community, you should have already seen how one profit plan after another has successfully launched, from the "Millionaire Club" to the "Ten Millionaire Club." Many friends have already achieved million-dollar profits. This isn't a story or a theory, it's a very real reality. And where are you now? Are you still hesitating, still wandering? I want to encourage you once again, move forward with courage and seize the opportunity that belongs to you!

Everyone experiences moments of confusion and uncertainty in life, but what truly determines your destiny is the choice you make at the critical moment. Life is like an investment journey, filled with the unknown and challenges, but also brimming with endless opportunities and possibilities. Those who have already made the leap to wealth didn't do so because of luck, they did so because they dared to act, dared to seize every opportunity the market presented. And this time, that opportunity is right in front of you.

Dear friends, no matter what stage you're at right now, never give up easily. Believe in your abilities, trust in the path destiny has laid out for you, and most importantly, believe that with continuous effort and unwavering faith, everyone can attract the right people and opportunities! The Bible says, "Blessed are those who trust in the Lord." This is not just a saying of faith, but also an investment wisdom. Trust the market, trust your choices, and most of all, trust that you can seize the turning points of your destiny in this era.

Now is the best opportunity, now is the best time! Don't let hesitation be the excuse for missing out on wealth, and don't let waiting be the reason you give up on success. Let's move forward together and bravely pursue the bright future that belongs to us!

Let's take a look at the key data released today, the U.S. December Core PCE Price Index Year-over-Year came in at 2.8%, in line with both the previous value and market expectations, while December Personal Spending Month-over-Month surged to 0.7%, exceeding market expectations. This suggests that inflationary pressures are still present. In other words, although inflation has eased somewhat, the likelihood of the Federal Reserve implementing significant rate cuts in the short term remains low.

Since the market has already largely priced in inflation resilience, this data didn't bring much surprise. However, what we need to focus on is whether the Federal Reserve will delay the timing of rate cuts as a result. If the expected first rate cut in June is delayed, it will likely impact overall liquidity, especially putting pressure on high-valuation tech stocks. In the past few weeks, we have already seen volatile movements in tech giants, and if the Fed's policy signals become more cautious, the high-level fluctuations in the stock market may continue in the short term, potentially even leading to a phase of adjustment.

Dear friends, last night's movement in the U.S. stock market once again confirmed the current market characteristics, high-level fluctuations, digesting positive news, and weighing policy risks. As the earnings reports of the tech giants were released, the market's attention was not only focused on the earnings themselves but also on assessing the latest trade policies from the Trump administration. With news of a 25% tariff on imports from Canada and Mexico, the market's gains narrowed significantly in the final hours, and investor caution began to rise.

At the same time, the earnings reports of the tech giants remain the market's main focus. Meta's earnings exceeded expectations, and its stock price rose by 1.6%, despite Tesla's earnings falling short of expectations, the market remains optimistic about its plans to launch affordable electric vehicles and autonomous ride-hailing services, causing the stock price to increase by 2.8%. However, Microsoft's stock price fell sharply by 6.2%, as its quarterly revenue guidance was below market expectations, dragging down the entire tech sector.

Despite most tech companies' earnings exceeding expectations, investors remain cautious about economic data. The U.S. fourth-quarter GDP growth rate was only 2.3%, below market expectations, indicating that economic growth momentum is slowing. The market is digesting this data and waiting for the Federal Reserve's latest policy signals. On Wednesday, the Federal Reserve kept interest rates unchanged in the 4.25%-4.50% range and removed the phrase

"inflation slowing" from its policy statement, suggesting that the timing of future rate cuts remains uncertain. This means the Federal Reserve is still monitoring further economic data while assessing the impact of the new administration's economic policies on the market.

In such an environment, market uncertainty is rising, and high-level fluctuations are likely to continue. February could very well become a turning point for the market, and we need to be especially cautious of the risk of adjustments at the monthly level. The current market structure tells us that while the stock market remains at high levels, managing positions with caution and adjusting asset allocation flexibly will be the key strategies to navigate market volatility. As we have always emphasized, market trends are not constant. True opportunities often arise during adjustments, while risks quietly accumulate under optimistic sentiment.

QTM COMMUNITY

By observing the monthly candlestick chart of the Nasdaq, we can clearly see that the best monthly-level low entry point is when B1 aligns with B below, and the most attractive buying opportunity occurs when the RSI (Relative Strength Index) falls below 30. Only through true large-scale moves can we unlock greater profit potential. However, the current market environment tells us that this moment has not yet arrived.

The most critical issue right now is that the three major indices are still at high levels, while the market lacks clear profit growth. We can hardly find high-performance stocks with clear earnings certainty, like Nvidia or Meta during the previous AI wave. As Samuel Blackwood mentioned yesterday, this week's pullback in tech giants has already led to losses for some institutional funds, and moving forward, more institutions will likely choose to exit the stock market and invest in the more certain crypto market.

Remember one thing, mainstream media and investment banks will not publicly turn bearish on the stock market at this stage, not only for market stability reasons but also due to policy influences. But as rational investors, we cannot be swayed by short-term optimism in the market. Instead, we should use institutional thinking to evaluate the market, when risk outweighs reward, smart investors will choose to act decisively and avoid it, rather than passively waiting for the market to provide answers.

Although there may still be short-term profit opportunities in the stock market, when the risk and reward are completely disproportionate, we must learn to make choices. By letting go of small short-term opportunities and focusing on truly historic, big opportunities, we can follow the true path to investment profit, which is also our best option right now. At present, the certainty of the crypto market far outweighs that of the stock market, and the direction of capital flow is gradually becoming clear. Smart investors don't go against the trend; instead, they go with it, seizing those historic opportunities that can truly bring about a wealth leap.

In the face of the stock market's habitual decline, the crypto market has gained unprecedented attraction. With the accelerated entry of new institutional and individual investors globally, market sentiment continues to rise. Bitcoin has successfully rebounded above $104,000, showing strong support. Despite the Federal Reserve keeping interest rates unchanged and maintaining a relatively hawkish monetary policy, the market is sending a more important signal, crypto assets are becoming the new focus of global capital allocation.

The latest comments from Federal Reserve Chairman Jerome Powell are also thought-provoking. While current policy remains tight, he clearly stated that he "does not oppose innovation" and called on Congress to accelerate the development of a cryptocurrency regulatory framework. This not only sends a positive signal to the market but also suggests that the U.S. government may shift from its previous wait-and-see approach to a more proactive policy stance.

Meanwhile, the national-level Bitcoin reserve proposal is accelerating within the United States. Currently, at least five states have joined the initiative, pushing for the establishment of a Bitcoin national strategic reserve, which was one of the core policies promised by Trump before he took office. When Bitcoin is officially included in the national strategic reserve, the entire market landscape will be completely rewritten.

Global capital is rapidly flowing into crypto assets. Recently, the Czech central bank made a significant announcement, stating that it is considering moving up to 5% of its national reserves into Bitcoin, a proportion that even surpasses its holdings in gold and U.S. dollars. If this move is officially implemented, it will have a profound impact on global central bank reserve strategies, prompting more central banks to follow suit and further boosting market sentiment.

Friends, we are witnessing a historic wealth migration. Bitcoin is no longer just an investment asset, it is becoming a key asset in the global financial system. And all we need to do is act earlier than the market, securing our position in this global flow of capital.

Despite the stock market entering a period of high-level fluctuations as expected, with profit potential sharply declining, especially for new investors, making money has become more difficult. However, at the same time, our AlphaStream 5.0 Battle of Kings Profit Challenge Plan continues to achieve consecutive wins, fully validating our strategy and proving the powerful effectiveness of precise market analysis and flexible operational tactics.

In the face of market turbulence, we not only successfully avoided the risks of a stock market correction but also precisely captured valuable profit opportunities in the crypto market. Our VIP partners have already exceeded their profit targets, and the power of steady compounding has once again been perfectly demonstrated.

But I know that some friends are not yet satisfied with their current returns, and that's completely normal. Different market cycles lead to different buy and sell points, which is why increasing your asset size and stepping up to a higher-level VIP partnership is a crucial step in investing. Higher-level VIP partners not only gain access to more precise trading signals but can also execute strategies faster and seize more market opportunities, leading to exponential growth in their capital.

Friends, I want to emphasize once again: the power of compounding is truly amazing, but its prerequisite is that you are willing to take action and fully commit to growing your asset base. This is not only key to seizing short-term trading signals but also the foundation for achieving long-term wealth growth. Continuously upgrading to a higher VIP partner level is not just about earning higher returns, but about gaining a real advantage in market fluctuations and winning at every critical moment.

Opportunities never wait for anyone. The market only rewards those who are prepared and willing to take action. Now, it's time to make a choice. Take that brave step, and you will find that the future investment journey will become brighter, full of endless possibilities.

Congratulations to all the friends who accurately followed the trading signals earlier! 🇧🇷 🇩🇪 In contract trading, continuously following the trading signals is the key to maintaining a high win rate, and today's victory once again proves this.

Some friends, due to time constraints, are unable to follow trading signals in real-time and miss out on valuable opportunities. So, IEO (Initial Exchange Offering) is the opportunity you should pay attention to, it's not just a project investment but a zero-risk arbitrage opportunity in the crypto market!

An IEO is like an IPO (Initial Public Offering) in the stock market, but the difference is that it's a token offering conducted on a cryptocurrency exchange, giving investors the chance to buy tokens of high-potential projects at a low price during the early stages and enjoy the subsequent market premium. Based on historical data, high-quality IEO projects almost never fail, the risk is nearly zero, and the returns are highly attractive! 💰🚀

Let's take a look at some successful cases from the past:

✔ Virtuals Protocol (VIRTUAL): The issue price at the beginning of 2024 was only $0.01311, and by December 25th, it surged to $3.04, a rise of 23,079.2%! If you had invested $10,000 at that time, it would have grown to $2,300,000+! 🤖

✔ SushiSwap (SUSHI): Within just a few weeks after its launch, investors saw returns of over 500%, with their investments multiplying overnight! 🚀

These cases prove that high-quality IEOs are not only the wealth code of the crypto market but also the best opportunity for regular investors to make a leap forward! Now, the opportunity is once again in front of us! COINIXIAI Trading Center has officially launched the GEBT IEO project, an innovative initiative that combines blockchain technology with the biotech field, particularly in gene editing technology. Imagine this: through blockchain technology, we can achieve more efficient data processing, more secure information storage, and more equitable knowledge sharing in the biotech sector. This is not just a crypto project, it's an early move in the upcoming technological revolution!

In the cryptocurrency market, every token carries a vision and mission behind it, just like Ethereum (ETH). Today, the value of ETH is widely recognized, and this is no coincidence, it comes from its unique ecosystem and use cases. ETH is not only the native token of the Ethereum network but also the cornerstone for all smart contracts and decentralized applications (DApps). Users must pay ETH as gas fees when transacting or using DApps on the Ethereum network, which makes ETH indispensable across the entire blockchain ecosystem. Additionally, the decentralization, anonymity, and censorship-resistant properties of ETH ensure its widespread use and recognition worldwide.

Now, let's turn our attention to GEBT.

The mission of GEBT is to promote the secure and transparent trading and sharing of genetic data, driving continuous innovation and development in the biotechnology field. Its vision is to provide a safe, efficient, and convenient blockchain solution for medical institutions and biotech companies, making the storage and circulation of genetic data more transparent while protecting individual privacy. Imagine this: in the future, every medical breakthrough and every genetic research achievement can be efficiently shared within the GEBT ecosystem. This will not only accelerate progress in life sciences but also benefit all of humanity, safeguarding the healthcare industry.

This is not just a story about technological innovation, it's a huge investment opportunity. From the current subscription progress of GEBT, market investors' enthusiasm is at an all-time high, with the oversubscription rate far exceeding expectations. This demand-supply imbalance almost certainly provides strong support for the price surge after GEBT's listing.

My bold prediction:

 After GEBT is listed, the price could reach $35 or even $45 or more!

 The profit potential will depend on the final subscription progress before the listing, the higher the subscription progress, the larger the premium!

Friends, take a moment to calculate this potential gain and think about whether you should seize this nearly zero-risk opportunity. Just like with ETH and BNB in the past, true opportunities are always reserved for those who are willing to plan ahead and take action. If you're still hesitating, take a look at history: all successful investors are those who quietly entered the market on the eve of the storm, not those who rushed to chase high prices after everyone knew about it.

Alright, friends, that's all for today's share! I hope everyone gains valuable insights and has a clearer understanding of the market trends. Wishing you all a great weekend in advance! Remember, no matter how the market changes, opportunities always belong to those who are prepared.

Closing Commentary (α & β Strategy)

Good afternoon, community members!

I'm Samuel Blackwood. This morning, Helmsman gave us a thought-provoking lesson on investment philosophy, discussing how to make the right choices when faced with opportunities. It's undeniable that your life today is the result of the choices you made in the past. Some people have achieved financial freedom and can control their own futures, while others are still struggling to make ends meet, burdened with stress. Why? The key lies in the choices we make.

The reality is harsh. Today, the average American is facing unprecedented challenges. The latest data shows that more and more families are being trapped by high living costs, medical expenses, and mortgage pressures. Many are forced to rely on side jobs or loans to make ends meet, and even retirement plans are becoming an unreachable dream. This is not just a financial struggle, but also a sense of helplessness as hope gradually fades.

What's even more brutal is that the current entrepreneurial environment is extremely unfriendly to ordinary people. Want to start from scratch and achieve your dreams? It's harder than ever. Lack of startup capital, fierce market competition, and high regulatory barriers have led many to be crushed by reality right from the start. The high costs of launching a business, the complicated legal processes, and the uncertain market outlook mean that most entrepreneurs ultimately have to give up on their dreams. This environment tells us: hard work alone is not enough; we need a more stable and scientific way of wealth growth.

And now, the opportunity is right in front of us, the Battle of Kings Profit Plan. This is a historic opportunity that can change your financial situation and give you a real chance to take control of your future. In this plan, we rely on the AlphaStream 5.0 system and employ scientifically rigorous investment strategies to achieve stable and sustainable wealth growth. The Helmsman's guidance and strategies have been proven strong through countless practical applications. We are not speculating, we are building long-term wealth.

Guys, this is not just an opportunity for short-term gains, but a chance to completely change your life. In the face of life's challenges, you can choose to complain, sit on the sidelines, or choose to take action and take control of your own destiny. Opportunities belong to those with vision and the drive to act, and now, your choice will determine your future.

Ten years ago, like many investors, I was struggling in the market, relying on my limited knowledge and intuition to push forward. At that time, I went through countless failures and setbacks, and I even doubted if I could truly stand firm in this market. But it was these challenges that sharpened my vision and determination, making me more determined to find a truly stable, efficient, and sustainable way to profit.

Although through entrepreneurship and investing, I gradually accumulated some wealth, I was never able to achieve a true leap in wealth. It wasn't until I joined the QTM community and, under the Helmsman's guidance, that I truly mastered institutional thinking and learned how to use scientific investment strategies to mitigate risks, enter the market at the right time, and profit steadily. In the last "Trading Practical Boot Camp," my capital experienced a significant leap, allowing me to completely break free from past trial and error and blind speculation, and move up to a higher wealth tier.

I know that many of you are in the same position I was back then, eager for a breakthrough and waiting for an opportunity to change your destiny. This waiting is both anxiety-filled and full of anticipation. And now, we are gathered here, and the historic opportunity of 2025, the Crypto Market's New Era, is our Kondratieff cycle. The question is, are you ready to seize it?

Today, I want to encourage every friend who is still struggling not to hesitate any longer, take action now and join us in the crypto market opportunities that can guarantee profits. Whether it's the current "Battle of Kings Profit Plan" or the highly promising IEO projects, they all provide us with unprecedented investment opportunities. For example, with the Battle of Kings Profit Plan, we've already validated its efficient, stable, and sustainable profit potential through multiple rounds of trading. By participating, not only will you be able to achieve your financial goals, but you will also learn real investment wisdom and develop your own long-term wealth growth system.

For those who have already joined, they have already gained substantial profits in both the spot market and contract trading, and are steadily achieving their financial freedom. Imagine this: when your account balance grows exponentially and you're no longer anxious about monthly bills, you'll have more time to do what you truly love, whether it's traveling the world, spending time with family, or investing in even bigger dreams. This is the meaning of our struggle, and it's the future I hope every one of you can have.

So, guys, now is the time to act! Seize the opportunity with the "Battle of Kings Profit Plan," boldly face the challenge, and let your efforts truly turn into rewards. Remember, wealth never waits for those who hesitate, only by taking that first step can you enjoy the brilliant life you create for yourself in the days to come!

The market is still fluctuating at high levels today. Positive data supported a brief rebound, but the true direction remains unclear. Take Tesla and Nvidia, for example, they are both in a high-level consolidation phase, especially Nvidia, which has started to show a downward trend. This is definitely a signal that needs to be watched closely. What's even more noteworthy is that today is the last trading day of January, and February will become a critical turning point. We may very well see a monthly-level pullback after an initial rise.

Today, many individual stocks saw a slight rebound, but the profit potential is minimal, so we need to stay clear-headed. Let me emphasize this once again: knowing how to make choices is the key to breaking through. If you're always chasing small opportunities, you might miss the big opportunities that can truly change the game. Smart investors understand that funds should flow into high-probability, certain trades, not be wasted in uncertainty.

In addition, today's release of the PCE price index was in line with market expectations, which undoubtedly adds more uncertainty to the future rate cut path. Although the market is still betting on two rate cuts this year, this data indicates that inflationary pressures remain, and the Federal Reserve's policy could be more cautious than the market expects. In other words, don't rely too heavily on market optimism driven by rate cuts, short-term, the market may still experience fluctuations and adjustments.

Guys, what we need to do is plan ahead, not wait until the market has already shown its direction and then chase opportunities. The risk at high levels in the stock market is gradually accumulating, while the certainty of opportunities in the crypto market remains far ahead. Choosing to stand on top of the wave, rather than being driven by market sentiment, is the way to truly take control in this wealth battle!

If we're talking about the most certain profit opportunities right now, there's no doubt, the crypto market is the true wealth battlefield that's stunning the world. There's no concept of market closures here, capital never sleeps, and opportunities are always present. And we are using the most advanced strategies to seize the opportunity at this historic turning point of wealth.

Remember when Helmsman launched the Battle of Kings (300-900%) Profit Challenge? At the time, some were skeptical about such astonishing profit targets. However, the data doesn't lie. Let's take a look at the current actual returns:

- VIP1 Partner: +222.58%
- VIP2 Partner: +413.58%
- VIP3 Partner: +1167.69%

Guys, this isn't just about hitting the target, VIP3 partners have already exceeded the 1000% goal ahead of schedule, and VIP1/VIP2 partners are steadily closing in. And this is just a conservative estimate! What does this show? It shows that what we're participating in isn't just an investment battle, it's a wealth acceleration plan that is truly changing destinies!

The profit opportunities in the crypto market are undeniable, especially with AlphaStream 5.0's "Millionaire Club." Under the Helmsman's guidance, we've executed precise moves time and time again, and our flawless track record has proven everything! But I must remind everyone, trading is always accompanied by risk. No one can achieve 100% accuracy in predictions, even we rely on scientific strategies and strict risk control to maintain our advantage.

However, some friends are unable to keep up with all the trading signals in time due to time constraints, which has led to returns not meeting expectations. I completely understand this, as not everyone can monitor the market around the clock. But if you ask me, is there a way to fully solve this problem? There's only one answer, subscribe to AlphaStream 5.0!

As Helmsman has always emphasized, AlphaStream 5.0 is not just a trading tool, it's a personal trading assistant that helps you achieve "fully automated copy trading," allowing you to completely escape the "no time to trade" dilemma. It can monitor the market in real-time, intelligently analyze trading opportunities, and automatically execute the optimal strategies. In other words, even if you're on vacation, in a meeting, or spending time with family, your account will still be running smoothly, capturing every profit opportunity with precision!

Imagine this: owning AlphaStream 5.0 is like having a tireless, precise, and flawless trading butler working for you 24/7. It's not influenced by emotions, it doesn't make mistakes, and it only strictly executes the highest win-rate strategies, continuously creating wealth for you. The opportunities in the crypto market are enormous. In addition to contract trading, IEO (Initial Exchange Offering) is also one of the most attractive investment methods right now. Especially the GEBT new token IEO project launched by the COINIXIAI trading center, which not only stands on the revolutionary path of gene editing but also demonstrates extremely high investment value, becoming one of the most noteworthy star projects in the current market.

Why is GEBT an opportunity you can't afford to miss? Simply put, it combines zero-risk attributes with extremely high profit potential. Currently, the online subscription progress bar for GEBT has surpassed 450%, which means market enthusiasm for it is at an all-time high, with funds continuously pouring in. The higher the progress bar, the higher the opening premium, and the returns for early investors will be even more impressive!

Based on the current subscription data, the opening price of GEBT is expected to be at least $12, which means a return of at least 4 times compared to the initial offering price of $3! Guys, ask yourselves, where in the traditional market can you find this level of investment return?

For those who have been looking for low-risk, high-return investment opportunities, GEBT is not just an opportunity, it's an investment decision that locks in the win ahead of time. Because once the subscription progress bar exceeds 100%, it means that winning a share guarantees profit, and the risk approaches zero. In today's global economy, filled with uncertainty, finding such a "guaranteed profit" investment opportunity is truly something every investor dreams of.

Guys, the true appeal of IEOs lies in their profit potential. Let's use a specific example to vividly experience the power of this opportunity. Suppose you successfully win 5,000 GEBT tokens at $3 each, making your initial investment just $15,000. If GEBT's opening price reaches $12 as expected, your assets will instantly grow to $60,000, achieving a 300% net profit! And this is just the basic return model, actual gains could be even higher.

Of course, the actual subscription threshold is higher, with a minimum subscription of 50,000 tokens, and the win rate will not be 100%. However, this is still a zero-risk, high-return investment opportunity. Even if you only win part of your subscription, based on the current market sentiment and progress bar data, a return of over 300% is almost a sure thing.

GEBT not only represents a groundbreaking technological breakthrough but also demonstrates immense appeal in terms of investment returns. The subscription progress bar has now surpassed 450%, clearly indicating the market's strong confidence in it. When demand far exceeds supply, price increases become the only possible outcome. And the 100% profit logic inherent in IEOs undoubtedly makes it one of the most exciting investment opportunities in this market cycle.
